DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claim 5 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Sakai (US 6,756,720 B2).

The '720 reference discloses an element (actuator element depicted in cover figure) for modulating area (i.e. actuator modulates area for movement) comprising a system (e.g. a system of laminated piezoelectric plates) in which occupation area is changed (i.e. plates expand in a direction of electric field such that occupation area of the plates is changed) by a molecular structure change (i.e. structure of molecules of PZT mixed with organic binder "change" to elongate and change at a molecular level per col. 1, lines 25-27) as "induced by an electric field" of the potential applied to terminals (5) because the electric field from the applied actuation voltage causes molecules of the piezoelectric material to change occupation area as they expand and contract for actuation of the actuator.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. Claims 6-8 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

4. Applicant's arguments in the response filed February 19, 2008 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

5. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to EVAN PERT whose telephone number is (571)272-1969. The examiner can normally be reached on M-F (7:30AM-3:30 PM).
